CZECHS DISARM SUDETENS BAN HENLEIN'S TROOPS

PRAGUE, Sept. 16 (AP)—Sources close to the Czechoslovak Government said today it had approved preliminary steps for dissolution of the storm troops of Sudeten Leader Konrad Henlein, who had fled before a Government decision to arrest him for treason.

At the same time, the regional government of the Province of Bohemia ordered a 24-hour time limit in which all residents of 63 provincial political districts must surrender all arms and munitions they may have stored in secret places.

Call Parliament In War Crisis

LONDON, Sept. 16 (INS)—British cabinet members decided today to summon Parliament into special session next week to ratify the decisions regarding Chancellor Hitler's demands which are to be reached by Premier Chamberlain and Daladier during their conference here tomorrow.

Viscount Runciman, British mediator in the Czech crisis, took off by plane from Prague today for London to confer with Chamberlain. It is believed his views will be sought on the possibility of softening the Czech attitude, which still remains strongly opposed to giving in to Germany or the Sudetens.

These steps came as strikes, sabotage and bloodshed stalked the Sudeten region.

Premier Milan Hodza, in conference with the cabinet, was said to have approved the preliminary steps for dissolution of Henlein's uniformed corps, known as the Freiwilliger Schutzdienst (voluntary protection service).

PRISON FOR GUNS

Informed sources said, however, that the government had not completed its dissolution decree.

The Bohemian government provided punishment of prison terms ranging from one month to five years for failure to obey the order to surrender arms.

Henlein's manifesto yesterday demanding German annexation of Sudetenland, President Eduard Benes' order adjourning parliament, and the departure of the British unofficial mediator, Viscount Runciman, for London apparently ended negotiations for peace in the longstanding Sudeten-Czechoslovak dispute.

Accompanied by his aide, F. T. A. Ashton-Crowkin, Lord Runciman left Prague by regular commercial air liner.

CZECH SOLDIERS SLAIN

Sudetens Germans were said to have demonstrated at Besegrun, near Falkenau, resulting in a clash with police and Czech troops. Two or three soldiers were said to have been killed.

The public prosecutor at Eger, a hotbed of Sudeten agitation, issued a warrant for the arrest of Henlein, charging him with treason and provocation of disorder.

Authorities said he would be arrested instantly if he attempted to return to Czechoslovakia from Germany, where he has taken refuge.

WARN OF CIVIL WAR

The government-controlled German language radio broadcast this appeal to the people:

"Foreign wire-pullers are seeking from a safe ambush to drive Sudeten Germanism into civil war and into a most serious catastrophe.

"Whoever unchains civil war acts against the interests and life of the people. No problem is so complicated that it cannot be solved by arrangement.

"The German problem in Czechoslovakia will be solved, if good-will on both sides is present."

The attitude of the Slovak People's party, which had insisted on autonomy, suddenly has veered in favor of the Prague government.

The followers of the late Rev. Andrej Hlinka, Slovak autonomy leader who died Aug. 16, have ceased co-operating with the Henleinists.

Hitler Demands He Rule Czech Guns and Policy

(Copyright, 1938, by Associated Press)

BERLIN, Sept. 16—Adolf Hitler was said today to have demanded both cession to Germany of Czechoslovakia's Sudeten area and assurances that Czechoslovakia's foreign policy should be in harmony with Germany's.

(Czechoslovakia has defensive alliances with France and Russia, which is a target of the German-Italian-Japanese anti-Communism pact.)

Another German demand, it was said, was that after German absorption of the Czechoslovak Sudeten area, what is left of that republic should fit itself into Germany's economic system, at least to the extent that Czechoslovakia did not hinder realization of German economic aims.

RULE OVER MUNITIONS

Germany, for instance, must have the decisive word to say on the output of the great Skoda munitions works at Pilsen and the destination of this output, the source said.

(Pilsen, in the part of the present Austro-Hungarian empire given to Czechoslovakia with the Sudeten German area, is in Bohemia. It borders on Sudetenland but is not part of it. The Skoda plants, moreover, have been distributed throughout Czechoslovakia.)

Chamberlain, it was said, apparently came prepared to concede some form of "anschluss." BALK AT PROTECTORATE
Whether Britain and France were prepared to support Hitler's virtual demand for a German protectorate over Czechoslovakia was believed to have been the question which prompted Chamberlain's sudden return to London.

Although German and British officials decline to disclose the nature of the talks and the status of negotiations, there was a popular belief that some hitch had developed.

Late Bulletins

NEW YORK, Sept. 16—Apparently still fearful for Europe's peace, Wall street swung back to the selling side of the market today. Losses in active stocks ran from fractions to more than $2 in quiet dealings.

BERLIN, Sept. 16 (INS)—Unconfirmed reports from Prague today said that Czechoslovakia's fortifications along the Czech-German frontier has been manned by 100,000 troops.

BERLIN Sept. 16 (AP)—The fate of Konrad Henlein (Sudeten German leader who fled from arrest in Czechoslovakia on a charge of treason) aroused much interest today in Berlin. Authoritative spokesmen insisted he was safe in Germany, but denied knowledge of his whereabouts.

Auditor MacKinnon refused to certify the payroll and all teachers of the city went without their first pay of the school year.

Superintendent of Schools Frank A. Ashley said he had listed the increase for Miss Hoyle on the basis of a school committee vote in 1936 ordering such increases annually up to a maximum salary of $3000.

Miss Hoyle's salary last year was $2900. This year's increase would bring her pay to the $3000 top figure.

Auditor MacKinnon maintained that the increase must be specifically approved by the school committee. On his recommendation, Mayor Frank E. Lewis declined to sign the payroll.

Nuptial Tangle Before Court

SALEM, Sept. 15.—Married, divorced, remarried to her former husband, now the target of a divorce action again, Mrs. Filomena DeFrancesco, Elm street, Lawrence, appeared in Salem Probate Court today on a cross-suit of her own demanding separate support.

She and Aquilino DeFrancesco, now a bartender at Salisbury Beach, were married June 23, 1928; divorced in June, 1936, and remarried October 10 that same year, she testified in June the following year, 1937, she related, her husband left her and their 8-year-old son, Carmen.

DeFrancesco, in his divorce action, which was to be heard by Judge John V. Phelan immediately following Mrs. DeFrancesco's suit, charges Mrs. DeFrancesco with cruel and abusive treatment.

4 Deny Guilt In Vice Raid

Not guilty pleas were entered in court today by three women and a male companion arrested in a vice raid on Warren street, Brighton.

The four who appeared in Brighton district court were Doris E. Ryan, 26, of Broadway, Somerville; Fannie Kendrick, 50, of West Springfield street, South End; Mary Gray, 25, address unknown, and Hyman B. Yaffe, 48, of Duke street, Mattapan.

They were allowed out on nominal bail for a continued hearing on September 22.

Kern Named Hearst Publisher Here

Harold G. Kern today becomes publisher of the Boston Evening American, Boston Daily Record and Boston Sunday Advertiser.

His appointment was announced last night by J. V. Connolly, general manager of the Hearst newspapers.

Mr. Kern's previous position was New England director of Hearst International Advertising Service, a service with which he formerly held posts in Chicago and New York. At one time he was advertising director of the Boston Evening American and Boston Sunday Advertiser.

Publisher Kern was born in Boston 40 years ago. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted E. Kern and was graduated from Boston Mechanics Arts High School and the Harvard Naval School.

Prior to joining the Hearst service in 1919, he was advertising manager of C. F. Hovey's. His first assignment with the Hearst International Advertising Service was in Chicago.

Later, he was transferred to New York and then returned to his native city as director of the New England division of the service.

John Cushing, former publisher of the Hearst newspapers in Boston, is transferred to the staff of the general management of the Hearst newspapers.

MRS. PAULINE AGASSIZ SHAW LAMB
Socialite to Wed Cambridge Banker

Pauline Lamb To Wed Again

Boston and Cambridge society circles were a-thrill today over a new romance in the life of recently divorced young Mrs. Pauline Agassiz Shaw Lamb, socialite heiress to the $12,000,000 fortune of the late Charles Sumner Bird.

Her wedding plans were revealed when she filed marriage intentions at Concord, N. H., today with Fisher Hildreth Nesmith Jr., 26-year-old Cambridge banker and Harvard alumnus.

Mrs. Lamb, now 22, was one of Boston's most popular debutantes of a few seasons ago.

As Polly Shaw, she was the darling of the younger social set, a Junior League and Vincent Club member.

She is the daughter of the late Louis Agassiz Shaw, Boston scholar and scientist.

COLORFUL BRIDAL

Polly Shaw's marriage to West Pointer Vincent S. Lamb, in June, 1934, was a colorful ceremony at the beautiful estate of her grandmother, Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, in East Walpole.

Up from West Point, where Lieutenant Lamb had just been graduated, came a delegation of his cadet classmates, one of whom served as his best man.

Boston and New York society was present, en masse.

DIVORCED IN JULY

As a shock to the many friends of Lieutenant Lamb and his young wife came news last spring that Mrs. Lamb was in Reno.

She obtained her divorce in July, alleging cruelty.

The hearing was private, but counsel for Mrs. Lamb said that evidence was offered that Lieutenant Lamb was glum and dour, refusing to attend social functions with his pretty and wealthy bride.

Mrs. Lamb, after her divorce, lived in Brattle street, Cambridge, not far from the home of her present fiancée's parents, socially prominent Mr. and Mrs. Fisher Hildreth Nesmith, Sr.

HARVARD GRADUATE

Young Nesmith was graduated from Harvard College with a degree of A.B. in 1934, then attended Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

He is now in the banking business.

His father, also a Harvard alumnus, is a practicing attorney, with an office in Devonshire street.

100 ARABS FALL IN BATTLE

JERUSALEM, Sept. 16 (INS).—More than 100 Arabs were killed or wounded today when 14 British Royal Air Force planes, supported by ground forces, battled several hundred Arab terrorists near Ramallah, north of here.

BOOM IN WAGONS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The carriage and wagon business jumped 50 per cent between 1935 and 1937, says the census bureau. The jump was due mostly to the great number of farm wagons sold.

Police of 8 States Hunt Missing Man

MAMARONCK, N. Y., Sept. 16 (INS)—Missing since Wednesday, Paul F. Travers, 76, former gold prospector in Alaska, and a retired building contractor, was sought by police of eight eastern states today. Search was instituted at the request of his wife. His car was found abandoned in nearby New Rochelle.

Judge Stone Wins $2000 Note Fight

The late Attorney Patrick J. Delaney of Cambridge intentionally destroyed a promissory note covering a loan of $2000 to Judge Arthur P. Stone of Cambridge district court, Special Justice Sadie Lipner Shulman ruled today.

She said evidence she heard justified the "reasonable inference" that Delaney intended to cancel Judge Stone's obligation.

She therefore found, as a matter of fact, that Delaney did destroy the note, relieving Judge Stone of the debt.

Justice Shulman's finding of today closed a suit brought against Judge Stone by Frederick J. White, administrator of Attorney Delaney's estate.

Fitchburg Girl Hurlled to Death

FITCHBURG, Sept. 16—Crushed by a locomotive while walking home from church, 8-year-old Irene Bartholomew died today at Burbank Hospital.

The child, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Bartholomew of Luenberg street, had just attended a children's mission at Saint Bernard's Church. As she crossed the Boston and Maine tracks on First street, she was hit by a switching engine.

Five other children, including the girl's brother, Harold, ran across the track ahead of her in single file, witnesses said.

Youngest of the group, she ran to keep up with the rest, and had almost cleared the last track when the engine swept down upon her. She was tossed several feet.

Japs Capture Key to Hankow

SHANGHAI, Sept. 16 (AP)—Japanese officers announced today they had driven across Hunan Province by recapturing Shanghai, 110 miles northeast of Hankow. They said they were in a position for a final drive on the important Peking-Hankow railroad.

The invaders' marines, warships, infantry and warplanes increased the fury of attacks on Wusueh, 50 air miles southeast of Hankow on the Yangtze river. They seek to capture Chinese cross-river defenses impeding the Japanese army advance toward the provisional capital.

In North Honan Province, Chinese reported routing Japanese from Linchang, capturing more than 2000 prisoners and quantities of ammunition.

Dixie Davis Tells Jury of Slaying

THOY, N. Y., Sept. 16 (AP)—J. Richard (Dixie) Davis, disbarred former lawyer for the Dutch Schultz policy racket gang, arrived here today to testify before a grand jury in connection with the 1935 slaying of Jules Martin at a Cohoes, N. Y., hotel.

Investigation into the slaying of Martin on March 2, 1935, was reopened by the grand jury after Davis testified at the recent policy "racket" trial of Tammany District Leader James J. Hines, in New York city, that he had seen Schultz shoot Martin. The two had quarreled over money.

BASEMENT-ANNEX

Free 64, Fine 1 After Bet Raid

Sixty-five arrested—one fined, the others freed.

That was the final score today in court proceedings following a raid by State police last night in Canton on an alleged gambling establishment.

The raid, police said, was prompted by complaints of an irate wife, who called up police headquarters and demanded something be done to prevent her husband losing the bulk of his pay every week in the place.

In Stoughton court today, Thomas E. Casey, 35, pleaded guilty to setting up and promoting a lottery. He was fined $520.

Charges against all of the others arrested in the raid were ordered dismissed.

U. S. Ship Escapes Spanish Bombs

BARCELONA, Sept. 14 (AP)—Twenty-nine persons were killed and 114 wounded today when three squadrons of Spanish insurgent planes dumped heavy loads of bombs on the Barcelona port section.

Menaced, but untouched, was the American freighter Wisconsin of Portland, Ore. Officers of the ship said she also had been attacked off Palamos yesterday afternoon, a single bomber dropping six projectiles which fell wide of the mark.

This Looked Bad, But—

It looked like the Great Mail Robbery to the pedestrian who reported it to the police, but to the taxi driver, it was just a routine job of delivering advertising mail to the South Station.

The pedestrian noticed the taxi man picking up two sacks of mail and hustling them into taxi cab in Tremont street, near Beaconfield.

He informed Patrolman Littlefield.

After an inquiry, three patrolmen discovered the cabman does it every morning, for a fee.

BOYS' CLUB, '38 MODEL

NEWARK, N. J. (INS)—This city seems to produce more cabaret entrepreneurs—especially among children—than any other business. Police raided one nightclub run by a 15-year-old boy, and confiscated five gallons of whiskey and two shotguns.

Sudetens Expect Hitler To March Any Minute

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER

International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1938)

ASCH, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 16.—The Sudeten version of Adolf Hitler's demands upon Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of Great Britain was given to this correspondent today and if reliable leaves no doubt that the Fuehrer is ready to march if satisfaction is not obtained.

In their historic meeting at Berchtesgaden yesterday, the Fuehrer demanded the following, according to the Sudetens:

- 1.—That a plebiscite be speedily held in the Sudetenland to permit the German people of Czechoslovakia to vote for or against union with the Reich.
- 2.—That Reich troops be permitted to police the Sudetenland during the plebiscite.
- 3.—Failing this, that an international police force like that assigned to the Saar and headed by British troops be sent to maintain order.

THREATENS TO MARCH

If Hitler fails to obtain the consent of Britain and France to these demands he has told Chamberlain it will be necessary to march the German army into the Sudetenland.

He has left it to Chamberlain to obtain consent of the Czech government, which has never wavered in its determination to fight rather than permit partition by a plebiscite.

This nutshell account of Hitler's demands upon Chamberlain is regarded as authentic by Sudeten headquarters here, whither party leaders fled from Prague in anticipation of Konrad Henlein's proclamation demanding secession of the Sudetenland.

SAFE IN ASCH?

The Sudeten leaders, all of whom are potentially accused of treason by Prague's blanket indictment of those responsible for the proclamation, feel themselves safe here, because Asch has been virtually surrendered to the Reich.

Here in Asch may take place the first act in what threatens to be a world tragedy, because Asch hopes and soberly expects to be the first Czech territory occupied by German forces.

Asch is a tiny peninsula running into Germany. It is militarily indefensible. It has only 80 Czech police for a 100 per cent German population of 22,000. It is virtually a part of Germany.

Asch's information about what took place at Berchtesgaden is therefore likely to be reliable. Sudeten chiefs here declare Hitler dare not wait long enough to get international troops here. They deny even eyewitness evidence that the Sudetens themselves have been the aggressors in current disturbances.

They demand immediate occupation of the Sudetenland by the Reich troops or 128 Sudeten Legion, predicting this may happen tonight. Even the Asch police headquarters admit:

"It would take Germany only 10 or 20 minutes to capture Asch. We 36 Czechs are sons of death, given up in advance. We wouldn't have a chance."

Riotous demonstrations by Sudetens continued today in a score of places, but the Czech government remained inflexible, imposing martial law on another three districts to make a total of 16. At the same time, by outlawing Henlein, Prague has accepted the challenge to sever diplomatic relations with his rebellious party.

Henceforth it will be impossible to hold any kind of negotiations between the Czechs and Henlein. Only British influence prevented the government from declaring the entire Sudeten party illegal.

ARMY OF 750,000
Meanwhile, new reserves are constantly pouring into the Czech army which will reach a total of three-quarters of a million men by tomorrow—and tomorrow the zero hour may come.

From that date onward, Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering has prohibited all flying over the Franco-German border.

Germany's propaganda campaign against the Czechs continues unabated. German broadcasts reiterate the statement that the Czech army is co-operating with the Communists and is led by Reds.

The Leipzig radio now calls upon all Sudeten youth to refuse conscription in the Czech army. Each day and hour is bringing fresh incitement to civil or international war which the Czech government has been compelled to counter with martial law, always a strong irritant to the civilian population of any country.

The total dead in the Sudeten region is now around 50 since Hitler's Nurnberg speech and the Fuehrer has received from the Sudetens a score of reasons for threatened military intervention. The fact he has not yet marched seems to the Czechs proof that he has received from Chamberlain assurance that the British will agree to a partition through a plebiscite.

Daladier, Bonnet Meet Bullitt

PARIS, Sept. 16 (AP).—Premier Edouard Daladier and Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet went to the American embassy today as luncheon guests of United States Ambassador William C. Bullitt.

Nothing was issued to give any indication of what they discussed. But the fact that they had come together at the height of uncertainty over the European situation created great interest.

Before going to the American embassy, Bonnet conferred with the British ambassador, Sir Eric Phipps.

Daladier was reported to be planning a week-end flight to London to confer on the sudden interruption of British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's efforts to solve the crisis through personal talks with Reichsfuehrer Hitler.

Chamberlain
Back, 'Knows
Hitler's Mind'

LONDON, Sept. 16 (INS)—Prime Minister Chamberlain returned to England from his visit to Adolf
Hitler today, landing at Heston airport at 5.29 p. m.

"I have come back again rather more quickly than I expected," said Chamberlain. "If I had not been so preoccupied, I would have found the journey thoroughly enjoyable."

"Yesterday afternoon I had a long talk with Herr Hitler. It was a frank talk, but a friendly one, and I feel satisfied that each of us now fully understands what is on the other's mind."

CALLS IN MINISTERS

Cautioning against speculation on the events at Berchtesgaden,
Chamberlain added:

"You won't expect me to discuss now what will be the result of that talk. All I have now is for discussion with my colleagues, and I would advise you not to accept prematurely any unauthorized account of what took place."

The prime minister said he would begin talks with other ministers tonight, and "especially" with Viscount Runciman, British adviser who flew back from Prague.

"Later on, perhaps in a few days," said Chamberlain, "I am going to have another talk with Herr Hitler, only this time he has told me it is his intention to come half-way to meet me.
He wishes to spare an old man
another long journey."

RUNCIMAN APPREHENSIVE

Runciman landed at Croydon only a few minutes before Chamberlain arrived at Heston.

"The situation is very delicate," said Runciman. "It is on the knees of the gods."

Immediately after he stepped from the plane, Chamberlain was handed a letter from King George, sent to the airport by special messenger.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16—Prediction that there will be no general European war this year was made over National Broadcasting Company networks by Karl Von Wiegand, Hearst newspapers correspondent, in a special broadcast from Prague, Czechoslo-

The talk was relayed to Canada by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

Von Wiegand added, however, that the first six months of 1939 would be a crucial period in which there would,
in his opinion, be a grave threat to the peace of the

Neutrals Win League Debate

GENEVA, Sept. 16 (AP)—Britain, giving way before the attack of the "neutral" nations, agreed today that League members have "no automatic obligation" to apply economic or military punitive measures against an aggressor.

This means neutral states, like Denmark and Belgium, are freed from obligation to permit military forces of League powers to cross their territory should one nation be declared an aggressor by the League in a future war.

Earl de la Warr, British Lord Privy Seal, speaking at the opening of the assembly session today, before flying to London for the cabinet meeting, startled the assembly with a statement that "the view of the United Kingdom government is that each case for international action" must be considered on its merits.

"Thus, even in the case where a breach of the covenant has been established in accordance with procedure," he said, "there would be in the view of His Majesty's government in the United Kingdom no automatic obligations to apply either economic or military sanctions (as provided in Article 16 of the covenant of the League)."

"There would, however, be a general obligation to consider, in consultation with the other members, whether and if so and how far they were able to apply the measures provided in Article 16, and what steps, if any, they could take in common to render aid to the victim of such a breach of the covenant."

The swift-moving events of the Czech crisis had spurred the neutral states to take precautions against becoming involved in war. The first impression of many delegates was that Dr. de Warr's words indicated the British were preparing "an out" should the Czechs appeal to the League.

F. D. R. Talks With Aides on Europe Crisis

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (AP)—President Roosevelt called in Secretary Hull, Secretary Morgenthau and Norman Davis today to canvass possible effects of European developments on America's neutrality policy, trade agreements and international finance.

Stephen Early, a Presidential secretary, said these phrases:

"Are being more or less seriously discussed and considered." He added that he was relaying that information to newspapermen as they would know the trend of the discussions and at the same time to get away from what he called "scare heads" of the sensational type.

"NA WAR SCARE"

Early said opinion might take the form of a war scare if the President were believed to be considering such physical matters as the army and the navy.

"There isn't any war scare,"

Early said with emphasis. The President, because of the international situation, definitely cancelled a speech he was to have made tomorrow in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., in commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the ratification of the New York state constitution.

He placed on the tentative list an engagement at Chattanooga, Tenn., September 20, in observance of the 75th anniversary of the Civil War battle of Chickamauga.

CABINET SESSION HELD

Hull came over from the State Department and stayed with the President for three-quarters of an hour. For half an hour Morgenthau also was present.

Davis, now head of the American Red Cross, but long ambassador-at-large in Europe, was given an appointment for the lunch hour.

The President's talks with the two cabinet officers and Davis were preliminary to a cabinet session.

The chief executive returned last night to the capital from Rochester, Minn., where his eldest son, James, underwent an operation.

Make Deep Impression

Few things that have occurred in the industry during recent years seem to have caused more comment than the recent entry of Bond Clothes into the student field. One leading manufacturer expressed an opinion that results in a new standard of ...

If you prefer—"Charge It!"
the popular Bond way—and pay weekly or twice a month. This service costs you nothing extra.

It began 30 years ago, with a serge suit. Our first customer wore it—5 years. He must have told his friends, for we sold a lot of those serges. Folks do talk about bargains.

And they've kept right on talking. Today, more men wear Bond Clothes than any others in America! One trade paper says it's a "boom".

What's behind it? Bond Quality at Low Prices. QUALITY, by our 4300 tailors who ply needles on this country's finest woolsens. LOW PRICES, by running our own factories, saving all profits usually paid to outside makers.

A perfect set-up. One which recently prompted a gentleman to remark, "Bond Clothes have a pleasant way of looking far more expensive than they actually are".

Can there be better reason for following the trend to Bond's? Do it, for your Fall clothes.

North Shore Girls Seek Beauty Title

The North Shore's prettiest girl—who is she?

Beauties, "tops" in society and charm, will compete tonight for the honor of being chosen queen of the glamour set, at the Casino, in Magnolia.

The occasion will be the annual charity ball for the benefit of the Boston Lying-In Hospital.

Not only the prettiest girl will be chosen, but also the best dressed and the most vivacious.

Favorite, odds on, as the prettiest is Suzie Seyburn, gorgeous brunette daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesson Seyburn. The Seyburns live, really, in Grosse Pointe, Mich., but have been summer residents of Cobb Cottage, Manchester, so long that they're regarded as regular North Shore residents.

Miss Olivia Ames, daughter of Mr. Edward L. Bigelow of Magnolia and Crestnut Hill, is another favorite for the beauty crown.

Miss Lucille Swift, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hastings Swift, is said to be the one most likely to be chosen as "best dressed." She "goes for" extremes in fashions, is the recognized pace-setter for the North Shore set.

Dottie Preston probably will be chosen "most vivacious." She is not only vivacious, but vivacious with a purpose, being a leader in tonight's arrangements and also active in many other social and philanthropic junior activities.

Legion Throngs Pouring Into Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16 (AP)—Special trains began rolling into Los Angeles today bringing the main forces of the 150,000 World War veterans expected for the national American Legion convention which opens Monday.

The first of 80 special trains arrived from Binghamton, N. Y., followed a few hours later by a 16-car train from Chicago.

Meanwhile, with committees busy whipping convention plans into shape, it was announced 26,000 persons would march in the parade.

It will begin on Figueroa street at Twenty-third, and end at the Coliseum, about 20 blocks away.

Preparing to handle the crowds, Police Chief James E. Davis announced police would go on 12-hour shifts beginning next Saturday night.

The Legion's national convention resolutions-assignments committee has 652 resolutions to consider. Of these 244 deal with rehabilitation matters embracing veterans' hospitalization, compensation and other government benefits.

The 1938 child welfare committee report of the Legion, made by Glen R. Hillis, Kokomo, Indiana, its chairman, showed expenditures of $4,025,857.51 in the year for 223,327 children, a new record.

Who's Elected? Hee Haw!

MILTON, Wash., Sept. 16 (INS)—Final vote tabulations showed that a sad-eyed mule had been elected local Republican committeeman from this town.

Kenneth Simmons, Democratic mayor of the town, entered the mule, named Boston Curtis, on the contention that 90 per cent of the voters never know whom they are voting for.

The filing notice was signed by the mule's hoof-print with Simmons himself signing as witness.

Just what happens when the Republican committee meets is still a matter of speculation.

George Baker's Daughter Dies

TUXEDO PARK, N. Y., Sept. 16 (AP)—Mrs. Howard Bligh St. George, 68, eldest daughter of the late George F. Baker, New York financier, died today at her home in London, England. Word of her death was received here by George H. St. George, a son.

She was a sister of the late George F. Baker, Jr., who died on his yacht in Southern Pacific waters last year, and the late Mrs. William Goadby Loew, Newport, R. I., society leader.

Eyeston Boosts Speed Mark To 357 MPH

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Sept. 16 (AP)—The world's automobile speed record tumbled here again today as Captain George E. T. Eyeston regained the title John R. Cobb usurped yesterday. The new mark is 357.50 miles per hour.

Eyeston, retired British army officer, drove his powerful "Thunderbolt" through the mile at 356.44 miles per hour on the north run and returned at 358.57 to displace Cobb's record of 350.20.

Hurley to Back 'Feasible' Deal

By ALFRED D. WHELTON

Governor Hurley today pledged himself to support "feasible" New Deal measures, but stood fast in opposing federal trade pacts and the Child Labor amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

The governor said he sympathized with humanitarian aims of the Roosevelt administration.

"My every instinct, as the son of a working man, impels me to wish to better the lot of the wage earner," Hurley asserted.

"Yet a conscientious executive must guard the rightful interests, not of one group alone but of all groups."

"As governor of the Commonwealth, this has been and will continue to be my aim."

Governor Hurley charged both Kelly and former Governor Cutley with running "camouflage" campaigns.

He rapped Kelly for "pretentious promises which could not be redeemed if he were governor for the rest of his life."

Meanwhile both Cutley and Kelly claimed credit for Insurance Commissioner Harrington's announcement that compulsory auto insurance rates will not be increased.

Cutley said he "forecast" intended increases and forced Commissioner Harrington to abandon them.

Kelly said his backers had compelled Commissioner Harrington to come out in the open after Harrington had planned to withhold rate announcements until after the primaries.

Cutley continued his attack on what he called Governor Hurley's "do-nothing" policy and repeated his charge that Hurley "competence" threatened Massachusetts with loss of federal funds.

In a radio address before the Republican Political M. B. Society, he said:

"You can tell a man by the company he keeps, and Marcus (Coolidge), James (Landis), Patrick (Dunne) and many others have informed me I will win the Democratic nomination by 500,000 votes."

Leverett Saltonstall called on voters to "take Massachusetts out of the hands of self-serving individuals" in appealing for support for

Death Reveals $30,000 Cache

LEWISTON, Me., Sept. 18—Quietly and frugally, Manford Merritt went his way, forever saving cash against his old age.

Few knew the 51-year-old lawyer and, to those few, he was a puzzle. They felt sure he must attain better than his third floor attic room.

Today, Manford Merritt was crushed to death in a coffee can at Durham and no longer was he a man of mystery. Investigation revealed $30,000 hidden in the room.

Forensic employees worked for an hour to remove Merritt's body after the dam collapsed. Surpassed authorities found him in a man's coffin in his pocket. Dr. Henry M. Clark, coroner, examiner, notified Lewiston police and Captain Joseph A. Brown went to the victim's home.

Four New England States and five Maine banks issued deposits totaling $27,000 were discovered in a trunk and a money drawer.

The money was in boxes, marked N. H. Alexander and Bank of Boston, where he had lived and was a partner in 1928. A letter from the Chase National Bank, New York, dated Jan. 1, 1933, was found in the trunk.

Mother Starts 'Torture' Term

BOSTON, Sept. 18—The mother of a boy who died in a fire at a downtown hotel, today charged the hotel with negligence. She said the hotel was "a torture" to her and her family. She said the hotel was "a torture" to her and her family. She said the hotel was "a torture" to her and her family.

Capture Youth After Plunge

Trying to escape after being off Northampton border, a 14-year-old New Englander, today charged of attempted breaking and entering. The boy was found in the water when officers saw him. He was taken through in Atlantic, arrested.

'Purge' Issue Widely Felt

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (AP)—The slap which President Roosevelt gave southern "conservatives" has reverberated far beyond the boundaries of the states involved in the primaries.

A tour of the South disclosed widespread feeling that the President's action was a blow to the conservative movement. In South Carolina, where the President's action was particularly felt, the conservative movement was said to be in a state of confusion. In South Carolina, where the President's action was particularly felt, the conservative movement was said to be in a state of confusion.

"I'd better hurry back to Maryland to vote for Lydings."

On the edge of the Maryland capital, a man was heard to say:

"Did you come across Georgia? They're going to reject George over there, aren't they? How about Lydings in Maryland? Is he safe?"

Many a South Carolinian, however, was from Maryland. And many a South Carolinian was from Georgia. The President's action was felt in many parts of the South.

Tories Aid F. R. Cuffy Feels

NEW YORK, Sept. 16 (AP)—Senator Joseph P. Cuffy (D.) of Tennessee, visiting New London, declared today that "conservative" conservative forces and the privileged few are working day and night for the re-election of President Roosevelt, but without supporting it.

It will be up to the people of the United States, rather than the President himself, who has been elected, to decide a third term for Roosevelt, but the people are to be elected to the President, but without supporting it.

Labor Troubles Hurt Recovery, Says Herring

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (INS).—Declaring the labor situation is retarding recovery, Senator Clyde Herring (D) of Iowa today expressed hope that a Senate investigation of employer profit-sharing may contribute to establishment of industrial peace.

As head of a special Senate committee, Herring now has a corps of investigators studying labor profit-sharing plans in 100 industrial establishments.

The committee has found, he said, that employees everywhere are "looking for some way out of their labor situation."

Actual sabotage of high-priced machinery in some industries, he said, has contributed to business worries over labor. With out attempting to place blame either on labor or employers, Herring said.

"The labor situation is the big worry. It is one reason for the lack of confidence. I am convinced it is a major reason why business is not going ahead faster."

Herring said the committee may recommend tax exemption on profit-sharing with labor by corporations. As a means of encouraging the adoption of the system.

While some industries have had profit-sharing plans and dropped them, many others have successfully operated them, and others are trying the plan, he said.

He named Sears, Roebuck & Co., Eastman Kodak and Purolator & Cycle Co. as big corporations successfully sharing profits with the workers.

Rail Men Hurl Strike Threat

As railroad managements of the United States formally notified employees, including 50,000 in New England, that they must submit to a 15 per cent wage cut October 1, railroad union brotherhoods knew today what their answer would be. They'll turn that answer, Sept. 28, their officials said, and it will be the threat of a general strike. More than 900,000 members of the railroad brotherhoods throughout the nation have already voted. Union leaders and railroad managements alike are now the balance, when tabulated, will be overwhelmingly in favor of strike action.

2 Trapped in $20,000 Waltham Fire Saved

Two men, trapped on the second floor, were rescued by firemen in Waltham today at a blaze that caused damage estimated between $15,000 and $20,000 in the A. M. Eaton Paper Company building on Lexington street.

Two alarms were turned in by fire Chief George L. Johnson bringing all available Waltham fire apparatus to the scene. The two men rescued are Miles Bennett, 38, Seminole avenue, Waltham, and Joseph Thomas, 37, Coughtry street, Waltham, both employed in the building. They were privately questioned by police while trying to escape, but a fire caused continuing important company papers.

The building is occupied on the first floor, by the Paper Goods Products Company, and by the Eaton company on the second. Damage was most severe to stock and fixtures on the second floor.

Savings that mean
AN EXTRA LOAF
 each week for the average family

Amazing news! This new low 10¢ price for the one best bread!

By saving 2¢ on every loaf (or 10¢ a week for the average family) you actually save the full price of a loaf of Wonder Bread. With this 10¢ you can buy an extra loaf of Wonder Bread or any of dozens of good things your grocer carries.

Perhaps you've been serving cheap bread. If so, here's your chance to buy more of the one best bread—Wonder Bread. Remember, the quality of Wonder Bread remains the same. Serve your family the one best bread TODAY!

ALL OVER TOWN women are cheering! Wonder Bread—the famous Slo-Baked loaf—is now only 10¢!

That's why everybody's flocking to buy Wonder Bread...the bread chosen the ONE BEST over all others in actual comparison by impartial housewives.

Actually 465,563 women have taken the time to make this dramatic store comparison. And WONDER BREAD was selected as the ONE BEST by nine times as many women as all others put together.

And today this ONE BEST BREAD costs you only 10¢. The same generous-sized loaf. The same matchless quality.

Ask your grocer for Slo-Baked Wonder Bread—the ONE BEST—today. It costs no more than the second best.

Typos Oppose 30-Hour Week

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 16 (AP)—A proposed 30-hour week now before the printing industry would mean a loss of the International Typographical Union in the conversion.

Delegates to the proposed convention for the 30-hour day per week will meet in New York on ground that proposed to maximum work period and provision to assure cooperation by an employer.

The conversion did vote to eliminate part of hours now were and agreed to prohibit new labor union contracts or renewal of contracts providing for such work after Jan. 1, 1941.

The typographers' refusal to merge in the American Federation of Labor of an agreement delegates called a "walk out" to fight another branch of organized labor.

?? SWING or STRAIGHT ??

Stomp On, You Jitterbugs!

STOMP IT OUT, JITTERBUGS.
You heard me, STOMP IT OUT to tonight's preliminary contest at Roseland State Ballrooms, Massachusetts avenue, and TRUCK ON DOWN to the tune of Bunny Berigan's swing band.

Be there early and hear late, RU!—be sure to leave them a win-

Winners of the preliminary jitterbug contest have an open date to compete in the A.I.J. New England Jitterbug Championship Finals on October 24, at:

The Boston Garden, where, SWING vs. STRAIGHT, the RATTLE OF MUSIC brings together:

Benny Goodman, Swing's King and
Rudy Vallee, Emperor of Straight Music.

MARK DOWN DATE

And don't forget, get out your "Little Red Book" and mark down that date you have Monday night with TOMMY DORSEY and his swingsters at Nutting on the Charles. It's another preliminary test!

Next all day Tuesday and then let spinning wheels take you over the road to Worcester early Tuesday night. Never mind if you get a bit dusty; you'll stomp the dust from your shoes in fits and starts at Danny Duggan's Black and Gold Ballroom, in Worcester.

Joe Rubin, who will have full charge of dancing at the Boston Garden the night of the Goodman-Vallee battle of music, will represent the Boston Evening American at all official preliminary contests sponsored by the paper.

Now that we've imparted all this information, let's have a little rest. Brethren Jitterbuggers, don't write us (this); don't write us unless you wish to deposit a little wampum for your tickets to get in the Garden on October 24!

And then you had better write us early for reservations, for that Garden is going to have bugging walls that night.

Members of the Jitterbug Club of Massachusetts of which Miss Ann Masters, staff writer for the Boston American-Sunday Advertiser, is honorary president, interested in attending the Benny Goodman-Rudy Vallee Battle of Music at the Boston Garden, October 24, are urged to get in touch with either their president, Nat Shlesman, or Joe Rubin, 224 Tremont street, Boston, or call Liberty 3399, immediately.

SWING SESSIONS

Let's have that response tapped out on the ballroom floor at some of these great swing sessions, sponsored by the Boston American.

And when Christmas comes to town, all you jitterbugs will feel that swingy feeling of the heart because you will have contributed your share to helping the needy of Metropolitan Boston.

Your ticket of admission will become a ticket of admission to a Christmas Basket to some deserving family, delivered by workers of the Boston American-Sunday Advertiser Christmas Basket Fund workers.

Relief Costs Soar in 12 Bay State Cities

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—A Social Security board survey of relief costs in Massachusetts cities showed today increases in relief expenditures ranging from 517 to 1420 per cent between 1929 and 1932.

The study of 12 cities disclosed what the report called "a record of seriously mounting relief costs."

In Cambridge, which showed the smallest increase in that period—117 per cent—the board reported the peak in expenditures had not yet been reached.

"It is clear large-scale relief spending will continue, and long-range planning is necessary to prevent and mitigate need," the report said.

The survey covered Cambridge, Boston, Brockton, Fall River, Lawrence, Lowell, Lynn, Malden, New Bedford, Newton, Springfield and Worcester.

Spent relief costs jumped 1420 per cent. Newton recorded a 1203 per cent increase.

Although the increase in Boston was only 397 per cent, total obligations for relief per family were the highest—$37.48 in 1932 compared with $4.18 in 1929.

masses hurry in N. Y. stock exchange as traders mill around floor buying and selling amid pandemonium.

celebration of settlement of love theft suit. Mrs. Ann Beresford of J. V. Beresford, promised band leader.

'Cavalry' of motorized iron and steel is pride of Czechs who are keeping hundreds of these tanks near German border in case of war. Note the camouflage designs on rolling forts.

Review

of labor battalions marching with shouldered shovels is staged by Hitler at recent Nuremberg Congress where Der Fuehrer announced the Reich was "impenetrable." He thanked labor troops for work on segmented line of fortifications.

CAN HE PULL IT OUT?

The Editor Says:—The war mongers are at it again,—endeavoring to embroil America in ANOTHER EUROPEAN WAR.

This time, here as in England, it is the MOSCOW-LED COMMUNISTS and their camouflaged sympathizers who are the "merchants of death"; and what they want is this—

ANTICIPATING WAR BETWEEN NAZI GERMANY AND COMMUNIST RUSSIA, THEY WANT AMERICA TO BE COMPELLED TO FIGHT ON THE SIDE OF THE SOVIETS.

Right now, in the interests of this outrageous program, the Red war mongers are striving, by all their arts of propaganda, to get the United States into AN ACTUAL ALLIANCE FOR WAR with the so-called other "democracies"—with Great Britain, with France, and—of course—WITH COMMUNIST RUSSIA.

These war mongers fear that Hitler is about to "gobble" Czechoslovakia, Soviet Russia's ally, on his way into the Ukraine. They want America to pledge its blood and treasure that this conquest shall not occur.

And they want America to give that pledge NOW.

For plain proof of all this, we need only to look at the Daily Worker, "central organ" in New York of the Communist party and of the Communist International.

Its issue of September ninth blares forth this raucous "warning":

"America, your security and peace are in imminent danger.

"A world war is threatening. Should it break out through Nazi aggression against Czechoslovakia, nothing can keep the fires from engulfing the United States . . .

"To a realization of this dire truth the American people must be aroused and STIRRED INTO ACTION."

Then the Daily Worker, which is the voice of Moscow, goes on to state what kind of action

... This country has AN INSTRUMENT OF ACTION.

"It was to face JUST SUCH A DAY AND DANGER that the Kellogg Pact was sponsored by the United States and France.

There is AN IMMEDIATE MEANS for the U. S. to carry into life THE MEANING OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH TO QUARANTINE THE AGGRESSORS and the many declarations for peace of Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

"THE TIME FOR SUCH QUARANTINING—IF THIS COUNTRY IS TO BE KEPT OUT OF WAR BY STAVING OFF A WORLD WAR—HAS NOW ARRIVED.

... The U. S. should issue an immediate declaration that this country would consider it an act menacing the peace of America should Hitler invade Czechoslovakia and set off a general conflagration.

"THE SOVIET UNION, CITADEL OF WORLD PEACE, WOULD STAND SOLIDLY WITH THE U. S. IN SUCH A STEP."

There you have it! Obviously, an alliance WITH COMMUNISM—FOR WAR, under the PRETEXT of pursuing peace.

The American people need to be "aroused" to the "dire truth" that COMMUNIST PROPAGANDA is today the greatest menace the country faces, a menace not only to our republican institutions at home, but also to our "security and peace" abroad.

And surely nothing exposes more clearly than does this latest revelation of Communist intrigue the SHAMELESS DUPLICITY of such organizations as the "Friends of Soviet Russia," which openly laud Stalin's blood purges and extols his huge Red army, while at the same time hypocritically "League for Peace and Democracy," the erstwhile "League Against War and Fascism." And so it goes, many follows the Comintern "party line," where it may lead.

For that "line" must lead inevitably away from peace and directly to a war on behalf of COMMUNISM.

And this country does not intend to engage in ANY WAR for COMMUNISM or for FASCISM or for NAZISM or for ANY OTHER ALIEN aim.

The Human Side of the News

Police Wearn Boys Away From Crime

By EDWIN C. HILL

Tonight, 1938 King Feature Synd. Inc. NEWS from Chicago is that some of the town's most illustrious racketeers have bath tubs which cost $3000 each, and one has a rug which cost $20,000. But, there are some lamp posts on the beautiful Lake Michigan Drive which are said to have cost $6000 each, and on that scale the city authorities shouldn't begrudge a gangster a $3000 tub.

Back in the late twenties, this item would have been less conspicuous. Quite a touch of bravura passed with the business retirement of Al Capone, "Lucky" Luciano and quite a few others, some of whom, fittingly, retired to the morgue.

England hasn't have the showmanship it used to have. It has new resources, a few new leaders and new organizations, and in a few spots it is still gaudy but, on the whole, it is taking on a great deal of drab protective coloring.

I have an idea that depression and repeal are changing the picture, along with progress in law enforcement of the F. B. I. type.

An old friend of my early days as a newspaper reporter, now a first-grade detective, tells me that today resistance by small businessmen against the racketeers is stiffening a lot.

BUT, my friends among the police tell me law enforcement is still an unceasing battle in this country, and crime still takes its annual toll of many millions from honest citizens. I find intelligent police officers not particularly interested in the big, showy gangsters. Sooner or later they are written off, one way or another.

TYPICAL DOPE DEN
Money Wiped Out by Police

What these intelligent officers are interested in is a new, practical, preventive penology, which, unquestionably, is showing definite results, regardless of the generally discouraging story of juvenile aid in American cities in the past.

The Police Athletic League of New York has recruited 75,000 youngsters, the "Pals," as they call them—in recreational and group activities which, beyond any question, is proving an antidote against crime.

In Manhattan and Brooklyn there have been hundreds of "cellar clubs," which have been comparable to the underground stews of London's Limehouse district as crime breeders. Dope, disease and tutelage in all juvenile and adult vices have flourished in these dreadful dens—usually rat-infested basements of unoccupied houses.

The police did something better than merely drive out the children.

They cleaned up the cellars, white-washed them and made them sanitary and organized their "Pals" clubs, in which they became friends and allies of the gamins rather than their enemies.

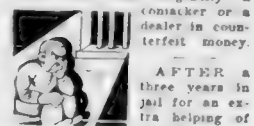

With the co-operation of local residents and businessmen, they stocked the clubs with juvenile magazines and books, and gymnasium equipment, organized kid bands and orchestras and kept ready at hand new interests and activities as alternatives for the old devilries.

THERE'S another interesting variant in police technique. They don't classify a juvenile offender as a criminal and they don't arrest him. They co-operate with the "Pals" in setting him straight.

I have found keen interest and enthusiasm among the police over this work. And it is my observation that once a cop gets the crooked politicians off his back, he may be a highly useful, faithful and intelligent citizen.

'Bugs' Baer Says:

INSPECTOR Byrnes states that Clipper Orvis was the most audacious rascal of his experience. The Clipper had been the proprietor of the City Hotel in 1913. Orvis was originally a concocter or a dealer in counterfeit money. AFTER a three years in jail for an extra helping of forbidden paper, the concocter decided to levy tribute on the banking firm of George B. Ripley. After establishing credit he presented a check for $20,000 to the teller who gazed at it in some astonishment. The teller told Orvis he would have to have the check initialed.

ORVIS walked eight feet to Ripley's desk. As the teller watched, Ripley initialed the check.

THE TELLER honored the check. When the banker looked over his accounts that twilight he thrust the check under the nose of the teller with "What's this?" The surprised teller informed him it was the Orvis check he had initialed. The banker exclaimed, "I initialed a check for $2000." The concocter had prepared two checks

The Brighter Side

Tom Sharkey Loses Fortune Won in Ring

By DAMON RUNYON

TOM SHARKEY was one of the gallant prize fighting figures of the country some thirty years or more ago. He was a fellow out of the navy and was built like a brick smokehouse, and he was a rushing, slugging chap.

He fought all the top notch heavyweights of his time and just missed winning the big title. We always remember a line about one of Tom Sharkey's fights that was written by Paul Armstrong, afterwards a famous playwright, when Paul was a leading New York sports writer under the name of "Right Cross." Paul said:

"The sailor kept coming in like the surf."

That name "Right Cross," by the way, disguised many a mighty pencil. It was first used by Paul, then when he quit the paper to write: "The Heir to the Hurrah" and "Alias Jimmy Valentine" and other plays, it fell to Jack McConaughy, one of the most brilliant sports writers that ever lived.

Jack was a great hand for depicting prize fights as extremely brutal and bloody, and could make you believe that what you had seen as a dull pugilistic matter was on the contrary a gory spectacle.

AFTER Jack as "Right Cross" came one of the authentic writing men of this country, William O. McGeehan, who was to set a new high in literary merit in sports writing. They are all dead—Armstrong, McConaughy and McGeehan, and the name "Right Cross" has had no successor.

What brings Tom Sharkey to mind is a little item in one of the public prints that the old sailor has come upon mighty tough financial days in San Francisco, which we are sorry to hear.

"Tad," the great sports cartoonist, who has long since gone to join Armstrong, McConaughy and McGeehan and other members of the greatest sports staff that was ever mobilized, would have been surprised to hear of Tom going flat broke. "Tad" had Tom famous in the old days for frugality, and it is said with some reason.

"Tad" used to pin all the current tightwad jokes on Tom when the sailor was running a saloon down on Fourteenth street in New York.

"Tad" used to tell a story about Sharkey ordering a lobster and the waiter bringing him a crustacean which had but one claw, explaining that this lobster lost the claw in a fight with another lobster.

"Well, take it back and bring me the winner," Sharkey roared, according to "Tad's" version.

Of the many prize fighters at the fabulous era of the '20's, probably only Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney kept any considerable part of their enormous earnings. What did the others do with theirs? Well they might answer some of our readers with the question:

"What did you do with yours?"

Constitution Day Contest Ends At Midnight

Last day, boys and girls!

The last day to get in a fine Constitution Day essay contest sponsored by the Boston Evening American.

TONIGHT MIDNIGHT is the closing hour for all 1934 essays submitted by boys and girls in Boston schools and suburbs on this subject.

"What the Constitution Means to Me."

Send your essay to the Constitution Editor, 3 Winthrop square.

Beautiful prizes will be given, including magnificent metal shrines, six feet high, to be awarded to schools having the most number of winners.

Constitution Fete Tomorrow

Military, civic and women's organizations will join tomorrow night in patriotic exercises commemorating Constitution Day in Faneuil Hall.

Speakers include Representative Fifth House, Rogers, former Attorney-General Joseph E. Warner and Congressman Joseph W. Martin, Jr. The invocation will be given by the Rev. Joseph P. Barry, director of the Catholic Charitable Bureau.

At the same time, Congressman Bruce Barton of New York will speak from the Hotel Bellevue on a national hookup sponsored by the Republican national committee, in observance of the day.

By proclamation of Governor Hurley, all National Guard units throughout the state will participate in the Constitution Day observance.

At Boston Common in the afternoon and evening demonstrations of military drill and field tactics will be given by local infantry, cavalry, anti-aircraft, hospital and tank companies.

State armories will be thrown open to the public from 7 to 9 p. m. for inspection of National Guard combat equipment.

Brann Will Open Law Offices Here

Boston in Maine's recent election, Louis J. Brann, former governor, plans to open law offices in Boston.

He will retain voting residence in Maine and probably continue to practice law there.

Meat Cookery Secrets Revealed

FROM MARTHA LEE'S FRIDAY BROADCAST OVER STATION WMBX—11:30 A. M.

What makes food palatable? Why is the same food prepared in a different manner more flavorful? Probably any child could give the answer. He would probably say, "because it tastes different."

When the reply given by the child is analyzed it can mean only one thing—the use of different seasonings or condiments to produce this flavor that appeals to his taste.

Our encyclopedia of food defines condiments as "substances taken with food to season, or improve its flavor, or to render it more wholesome or digestible."

Probably the best known and most used condiment is ketchup. Ketchup is made from fresh ripe tomatoes, spices, preservative sugar, distilled vinegar, onion and salt.

Many men who insist that they like only foods with bland flavor, or small amounts of seasoning find the keenest pleasure in pouring ketchup generously over this same bland food to enhance flavor.

Even the rich, red color of ketchup is appetite stimulating. Do you keep one bottle on hand for table use and another on the spice shelf for cooking? You should.

If you buy two bottles of a famous brand of ketchup, one for the table and one for kitchen use between now and October 31, you are entitled to a book of meat cookery published by this same manufacturer.

This attractive new booklet of meat cookery is one that you can not afford to be without. We've tried many of the recipes and found them to be excellent. Ask your grocer about this offer and he'll give you a sales slip at the time of purchase.

More detailed information of this offer will be found elsewhere in this paper. We know that many of you are always anxious to take advantage of the offers for valuable booklets on cookery. The Book of Meat Cookery is dedicated to the millions of meat-makers who strive to make eating one of the major joys of this life.

The recipes offered today are taken from this booklet in an effort to convince you of its worth.

BAKED HAM WITH SAVORY SAUCE

- 1/4 cup tomato ketchup
- 4 cup cold water
- 1 tablespoon pure vinegar
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard

Crown a thick slice of ham in a skillet, then place in a casserole and cover with a sauce made by combining the above ingredients. Bake in a moderate oven or simmer over heat until tender—about 1 1/2 hour. Garnish attractively and serve.

CHOP SUEY

- 1 1/2 lb. 2 pounds lean pork, cubed
 - 1 cup soy sauce
 - 2 cups mushrooms
 - 1 cup celery
 - 2 cups carrots
 - 1 cup onion
 - 1 cup bean sprouts
 - 1 cup water
 - 1 cup cornstarch
 - 1 cup warm water
 - 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- Cut meat, mushrooms, celery and onions in small pieces. Chop onions, if preferred. Fry bacon, remove from pan, then brown meat in the bacon fat. Add vegetables, cooked bacon and salt and pepper to season. Combine sugar and cornstarch, add the warm water and blend well, then pour over the meat and vegetables. Cook 1/2 hour, stirring briskly, then add Worcestershire Sauce. Serve with steamed rice or Chinese noodles. This is a suitable one-dish meal.

BAKED OYSTERS, MEXICAN STYLE

- 1 1/2 cups melted butter
- 1/2 cup onion, minced
- 1/2 cup green pepper, minced
- 1/2 cup tomato, minced
- 1/2 cup cornstarch
- 1/2 cup Worcestershire Sauce
- 1/2 cup salt
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup vinegar
- 1/2 cup mustard
- 1/2 cup ketchup
- 1/2 cup soy sauce
- 1/2 cup cornstarch
- 1/2 cup warm water
- 1/2 cup Worcestershire Sauce

To the ketchup add Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper. Place the oysters in a buttered casserole or baking dish, cover with the ketchup mixture, sprinkle with cheese and dot over with butter. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) until cheese is melted and oysters curled, and serve very hot with generous slices of pickle.

CREAMED CHICKEN AND MUSHROOMS ON TOAST CUBES

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 cups diced cooked chicken or veal
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1/2 cup cream
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 cup onion
- 1/2 cup celery
- 1/2 cup carrot
- 1/2 cup bean sprouts
- 1/2 cup cornstarch
- 1/2 cup warm water
- 1/2 cup Worcestershire Sauce

Melt butter and brown meat in it slightly. Add flour and blend well. Add soup and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Add egg white, sliced and heat just long enough to heat eggs through. Salt and pepper to taste. Serve on toast cubes or hot biscuits and sprinkle with the egg whites which have been put through a sieve. Garnish with watercress. An easily prepared dish for your next bridge party.

Protect the Hands

Come out of the garden, lift a hoe, and give your hands a couple of once-overs. You've pulled weeds, turned soil and now look at your self! Why won't you wear your gloves like a good girl?

Do you know that you can pick up infections from the soil? A tiny wound and you're in for it. Not only for hand protection, but for the sake of your health you should keep your hands covered. Think what grime does to the skin how it thickens and injures your nails. Rough work without protective measures make the hands wrinkle, look old. Old hands are as hard to bear as a face that has aged prematurely.

Wronged Wife Must Think of Children

By BEATRICE FAIRBANK

The most difficult situation in which a happily married woman can find herself occurs when she discovers that her husband has been making love to another woman. The story of the girl who, when she becomes aware that the other woman is a local friend, in whom she has had a first love affair, here is the last one.

"DEAR MISS FAIRBANK—

"When I discovered that my husband and my best friend had been making love to each other, my little world crashed. How serious it is, I don't know yet. My friend is very unhappy over the whole matter, and she welcomes the attention of any man who makes her forget her own troubles.

When I discovered that my husband and my best friend had been making love to each other, my little world crashed. How serious it is, I don't know yet. My friend is very unhappy over the whole matter, and she welcomes the attention of any man who makes her forget her own troubles.

When I discovered that my husband and my best friend had been making love to each other, my little world crashed. How serious it is, I don't know yet. My friend is very unhappy over the whole matter, and she welcomes the attention of any man who makes her forget her own troubles.

I know nothing? Shall I start scenes and make my husband unhappy as he has made me? Besides myself, there are two children to be considered. Their father is devoted to them.

"SORROW"

We're all creatures of primitive impulse. The first impulse of any woman who finds herself in the position of this wife is to stab back, make the man and the woman pay.

But on second thought is the primitive way the best? It's pretty hard to comfort to wreck her home and leave her children to the mercy of chance.

When a woman finds herself in the plight of this correspondent, she would do well to ask herself how seriously the man meant his love making. The grief-stricken woman who comes for sympathy and advice is very likely to encourage a little romantic scene. And if this love-making was not serious why make a capital offense of it especially when the welfare of children is involved?

REPORT from PARIS & BERLIN

Enter the "Side-Swept"

"Up-Do" Coiffure Passe, Says Expert

The side-swept sweeps aside the up-do!

Mr. McCarthy remained one year in Europe attending style shows in the capitals and it is his declaration that "up-dos" are on the wane in Paris and such.

"The up-do, tendrilly speaking, is on the wane," he declared. "If one is to judge from the Parisian exhibit.

"The hair-comb inspired by Andre of Munich is the coming hair-comb, if it hasn't already arrived," according to Mr. McCarthy.

The latest hair-dressing bulletin came from James McCarthy of Ann Beauty Shoppes, Boston hair-connoisseur, as he stepped off the boat from Paris and Berlin and points east.

And Andre's hair-comb is just a mild concession to the up-do. It is up at the sides and the curls in horse-shoe form at the back.

McCarthy, by the way, received honorable mention at the Parisian exhibit at the Grand Hotel this summer.

"The ladies across water found the 'up-do' too impractical so they have turned to the 'side-swept,' which is sculptured to the head in back with the ends of the hair tightly permamented and cut to shape a 'U' curve or horse-shoe in back," he explained.

"The waves are merely shadow waves. And milady really can comb it herself and be chic and practical at the same time."

Mr. McCarthy will be pleased to advise anyone as to the type of "Side-Swept" suitable to their individual features. Mr. McCarthy will be at our Tremont St. Shop between 2 and 4 P. M. Daily. For an appointment call Dev. 9353.

Sonja Henie's 'My Lucky Star' At Keith's

By PEGGY DOYLE

Twenty-first Century Fox's movie, dumped on top. Sherry Henry, whose pictures have been a succession of sackbuts these far, will hardly break box-office records in her current offering, "My Lucky Star." It is a new showing in the Keith Memorial Screen.

It may be pronounced as never. Her new role is similar to the famous and doubtful part, say, the Alice in Wonderland sequence. But the story, in the long-gone days, lacks imagination and pathos. My guess is that the Keith's My Lucky Star will be a flop. And the program is not up to the Keith standard.

Although the results of the present study are promising, there are some limitations. First, the sample size was small, and the results may not be generalizable to a larger population. Second, the study was a cross-sectional design, and the results may be influenced by the timing of the data collection. Third, the study did not control for other factors that may influence the results, such as the type of food consumed and the frequency of consumption. Finally, the study did not measure the actual intake of the food items, but rather relied on self-reported consumption. Despite these limitations, the results of the present study suggest that the consumption of traditional foods may be associated with a lower risk of obesity and related health conditions. Further research is needed to confirm these findings and to explore the underlying mechanisms.

Boston After Dark

—BY GEORGE HOLLAND

NEXT MONTH'S THEATER CALENDAR was given another important marking with addition of Ina Claire to the list of events . . . Miss Claire will be seen in a new play "Generals Need Beds" . . . It is the first produced opus of Lewis Meltzer . . . Ina will portray a young matron of the Revolutionary War period who is purported to have influenced the course of history via an intrigue with General (Sir) William Howe . . .

GEORGE HOLLAND

Miss Tucker will leave Boston Sunday morning to confer with Producer Freedley and the authors of "Clear All Wires," Ben and Sam Spawack . . . They wrote "Boy Meets Girl" . . . Sophie will return to Boston to continue Monday her record-breaking run at the Mayfair . . .

There are stories about a third contest to the performers. In fact, a performer with the name of Ina Claire at the Mayfair at the time she was given the contest received a bad smash above the knee . . . She was given the contest in the morning, and then she was given the contest in the afternoon . . .

The political campaign is getting hot allright . . . Supporters of a candidate for minor office, in the presence of a small gallery because the hour was 2 a. m., fought it out in Copley Square today . . . The battlers were members of the so-called gentler sex, but there was no hair pulling . . . The gals decided the issue with their fists . . . The gendarmes broke it up . . .

Bulletin:

At the reception given members of the press by Mary Pickford at the Ritz-Carlton yesterday, ten (T E A), was served . . . You would have been surprised, you who must have accepted the movie version that reporters eschew any beverage devoid of alcoholic content, how many of the boys and girls tipped the steaming brew . . . and liked it . . . We were all pretty proud . . .

Once Over Lightly:

Miss Luskford has received a copy of the new book "The Lone Ranger" . . . The book is a collection of stories about the hero of the Western . . . The book is a collection of stories about the hero of the Western . . . The book is a collection of stories about the hero of the Western . . .

Dean Jagger, who adopted Hingham as his legal residence when he married Antoinette "Lois" Lawrence of the Social Register, will open in New York Monday night in Guthrie McClintic's new play, "Missouri Legend" . . . Mrs. Lois Lawrence, mother of Mrs. Jagger leaves today for New York to be on hand for the opening . . . Actor Jagger is starred with Dorothy Gish in the new play, and was the coveted "first killing" . . . McClintic thinks Jagger is the equal of Burgess Meredith at the very top of the younger stars . . .

Charles King, who has been in the city for some time, has been seen at the Ritz-Carlton . . . He is a very handsome man . . . He is a very handsome man . . . He is a very handsome man . . .

Charles King, who has been in the city for some time, has been seen at the Ritz-Carlton . . . He is a very handsome man . . . He is a very handsome man . . . He is a very handsome man . . .

A logical combination of titles is on display over the marquee of Loew's State and Orpheum Theatres . . . "These Ladies Have Names" is the feature picture and the accompanying movie is titled "The Chaser" . . .

Margaret O'Brien, the Roxbury youngster who dances like a dervish and sings like a siren, will step into the bigness of the cabaret circuit as soon as she reaches the age of 16 . . .

Randy Weeks will arrive home from the Coast September 21 . . . He is a very handsome man . . . He is a very handsome man . . . He is a very handsome man . . .

Miss Mary, who has been in the city for some time, has been seen at the Ritz-Carlton . . . She is a very handsome woman . . . She is a very handsome woman . . . She is a very handsome woman . . .

Sarah Faces Ja-Ja In U. S. Singles

Bromwich Due To Reach Final

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 16.—It will be Don Budge and Johnny Bromwich who fight for the U. S. singles title.

Johnny Bromwich has been pleasantly surprised but he is a match for the brilliant two-handed "Aussie."

The women's championship is also reaching its final round.

Today's schedule had Sarah Palfrey Phibbs, champion, taking on Ed. Tilden, and Alice Marble, defending champion, taking on Dorothy Bundy.

The other finalist will be decided by the outcome of tomorrow's match between Dorothy Bundy and Nancy Wynne.

Lethal Punch

Nancy Wynne, Australian miss, who upset the upstart of Helen Jacobs—Margot Lumb of Britain. Scores were 6, 4, 5—7, 6—1. Miss Wynne was a finalist in the recent tournament at Essex County Club, bowing to Alice Marble.

7,000,000 in Australia, 2,000,000 Play Tennis

FOREST HILLS, Sept. 16. AP.—Australia, with a population of only seven millions, counting aborigines and a few kangaroos, is without doubt the hottest tennis country in the world.

Of six players left in the men's division of the national championship today, two were from the far and sparsely settled outposts of the British empire: Jack Bromwich and Harry Hopman.

Nancy Wynne looked like a central figure if not the tournament champion, in the women's division. It's a remarkable showing, Bromwich still fresh after his four-set win over Ted Hunt, was asked how

"Probably the simplest explanation is that we have about two million tennis players," he said. "Honest, about two out of every seven people must play the game. The club in Melbourne has 1800 members, and there are many others nearly as large."

"In Sydney and Melbourne we have the advantage of being able to play every month of the year on grass. It is seldom too hot or too cold. Naturally, we are developing a lot of good players."

"I should think we have about eight youngsters at home who could beat your Frank Kovacs, to use an example. Of course, you must remember that two of our best players, Jack Crawford and Vivian McGrath, didn't come over this time."

One gathers from talking with the Australians that there is fully as much high pressure tennis over there as in America, with a regular tournament circuit and plenty of help for the young players who show promise.

World Series Opens Oct. 5

NEW YORK, Sept. 16 (AP).—Unless the National League race ends in a tie, the 1938 World Series will open on Wednesday, October 5, with the first two games scheduled in the home of the National League champion.

The third, fourth and fifth games will be played in the Yankee Stadium with the sixth and seventh if necessary, to be played in the National League park. This was decided today at a conference between Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis and representatives of the four clubs involved: the New York Yankees representing the American League, and the Pittsburgh Pirates, New York Giants, Cincinnati Reds and Chicago Cubs from the National League.

Frank Frock, president of the National League, and Will C. Harral, head of the American League, also attended.

All games will begin at 1:30 p. m. standard time unless there is a Sunday game in New York, in which event hostilities will start at 12 p. m. (E. S. T.).

If the National League champion should end in a tie, which is unlikely, the first game of the series will be started the third day after the tie is decided. It would be up to Frock to decide when the tie should be played and he indicated today the odds of a tie being played on Tuesday following the close of the season on October 2.

Turnesa 3 Up at 18th

OAKMONT COUNTRY CLUB, Oakmont, Penn., Sept. 16 (AP).—Pat Abbot, extra from Hollywood, captured one of the 18 prizes today by taking a 3-up lead half way through the 18th hole in the 1938 U. S. Open.

With Turnesa, 18 up at 18, Abbot, 17 up at 18, and Edwyn Kuykendall, 16 up at 18, were the leaders. The 18th hole was a par 3, and Turnesa, who was 1 up at 17, made a birdie to take the lead.

Di Natale Will Aid Shamrocks
Redskins Pass Up $10,000

By JACK CONWAY

TONY DI NATALE, former Boston College star, should make good in professional football as a member of the Shamrocks . . . Playing for the College All-Stars against the Shamrocks, Di Natale looked very impressive . . . He can kick, run with the ball, and also block when the occasion requires . . . The 20,000 crowd at the Shamrocks-All Stars game liked Di Natale's smashing playing, and cheered lustily when it was announced that Tony would be in the lineup of George Kenneally's club against Pittsburgh at Fenway Park on Monday night.

Mr. Boston

The public is for professional football, and will patronize the right kind of a club . . . Night football will help the professional game as it offers thousands of people who work days an opportunity to see the action . . . There were thousands of young people between the ages of 18 and 25 in the big crowd that attended Boston's football pre-view . . . George Marshall, owner of the Redskins, has given the Shamrocks a definite "NO" on a flattering offering to play here . . . Marshall says his club has not an open date . . . Under the terms offered by Bill Scully, owner of the Shamrocks, the Redskins would have received between $10,000 and $15,000 . . . Marshall is still quite hot under the collar in regard to the poor treatment he claims he received here, and doesn't intend to show his Redskins in Boston.

Lou Brouillard Back in Action

LOU BROUILLARD, former world's welterweight and middleweight champion, will receive a severe test when he clashes with Joe Glasgow of Quincy in a ten-round bout at the Garden a week from tonight . . . Glasgow is an aggressive scrapper who likes to pour punches at the opposition . . . Brouillard's title as New England middleweight champion will be at stake which causes Glasgow to remark he will be a title-holder when he leaves the ring at the Garden.

I have seen Brouillard in recent training sessions, and he has shown flashes of his old fighting form . . . Lou is down to fighting weight already, and asserts that he only requires boxing to tune up his sock for Glasgow.

Earl Sande Supports Wilson's Plan

EARLE SANDE is backing Dave Wilson's idea for a match race between Stagehand, War Admiral and Seabiscuit. Sande displays real sportsmanship when speaking for Maxwell Howard, owner of Stagehand; he offers to make side bets of $25,000 with Charles S. Howard, owner of Seabiscuit, and Samuel Riddle, owner of War Admiral, that Stagehand will win the proposed race.

Sande's suggestion of a big side bet would also eliminate any charge that the race was being run merely to cut up a juicy purse. On the form Stagehand displayed in winning the $25,000 Narragansett Special and the $10,000 Governor's Handicap at Narragansett Park, he would give War Admiral and Seabiscuit a merry run for first honors.

Sande has not stated over what distance he would like to have the proposed race held. Stagehand is at his best at one mile and three sixteenths when he has plenty of time to make up the distance he usually loses in the early part of a race.

Random Shots at Target

J. FRANK FACEY will be tendered a tribute by his many friends on his 75th birthday on Sunday . . . The affair will be held at the Riverside Boat Club on the Charles river between the River street and Brookline street bridges . . . For 50 years Facey has been a dominant figure in amateur rowing as well as in other amateur athletics.

Dick Harlow isn't saying anything for publication, but he is secretly pleased with the fine showing made by his squad so far this season . . . A year ago Harlow was obliged to build an entire team, and it took the Dartmouth defeat to give the players the type of test they required . . . Dartmouth is rated tops among the New England college eleven which is why the followers of the "Big Green" have their fingers crossed . . . Young football players have a habit of becoming over-confident when they are considered unbeatable.

The school eleven will engage in some interesting Saturday games . . . Wakefield plays at Malden, Rindge at Waltham and Saugus at Medford . . . Buzz Harvey, former Holy Cross football and baseball star, has put Saugus very much on the gridiron map . . . Schoolboy football has a big following in Greater Boston . . . It is common for many of the better players to draw 10,000 to 12,000 people . . . Many colleges would be quite happy to have as many persons at their football clashes.

When the primaries get out of the way on next Tuesday, the Irish American A. A. will go merrily ahead with its amateur boxing opening which will be held at the Arena on September 26 . . . The primaries, say the directors of the Irish American A. A., are furnishing too much action for even amateur boxing to compete against . . . Once in action the Irish American A. A. will conduct tournaments each Monday night.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16 (INS)

—If a lady has her toes sticking out of her shoes she's in style. If a man has his toes sticking out of his boots he's a bum.

That's what happened to the Giants today. They're bums again.

After all, their manager should know what he's buzzing about. Terry put the finger on his team last month and said the Giants would finish one, two, three if you added them up and made six.

The Associates' Warner blasted Melton lose from his hands with three home runs that Hank Greenberg could have used. All Hank got today was some minor details that will butter no parsnips. The Pirates looked like champions again. The National League is the only first-run theater that changes its picture every day.

Mr. Tobin pitched himself a pretty neat game holding the Giants to seven disconnected hits. It is Mr. Tobin's idea to catapult himself into the World Series by easy stages. Like a PWA man sawing wood, Mr. Tobin works just hard enough to be there on pay day.

The Yanks edged themselves closer to the kitchen and now have a beautiful view of the apple dumplings going back for more sauce. All they need is a few more games, six days of rain or a letter from their parents.

It's the National League that has the experts as whacky as a stow-away in a concrete mixer. They are going around in circles like a pup in a revolving door.

The writer has never been fooled on any guesses since he started doing the works in baseball, football and fighting. Except once. That was when the seventeen year locusts clipped a Dutch earner and got there in fifteen. Incidentally, this was the only time my old friend Abe Atell was ever seen out in the suburbs.

With this win we figure the Pirates are as safe as ten-cent jewelry in a stick-up. They're now in Boston against the best pitching in the league and fairly intelligent fielding. But the Boston batters couldn't clip a medicine ball in a bowling alley. And that's why Casey Stengel rings his own number on the telephone so he can talk to himself in a dignified manner.

The Cubs figure themselves as a tasty dish and are looking at the white through rose-colored chicken wire. The rest of the league is chafing like a boss collar on a steep hill. Cincinnati has a chance but not in a plebiscite. The Cubs and Pirates will outvote them.

We didn't go over to that fight in Philly although John Henry Lewis can certainly put his weight in any manager's boat. But the scuffle didn't have any more meaning than a rose in a stevedore's hair. Like the perfume of barren Island in an east wind we took that one on the air.

They're playing a Cuban game over at the Hippodrome. Two guys with market baskets keep tossing an egg plant at each other. Neither one wants it. Mike Jacobs figures the public felt that way about his last winter's fights in the same joint.

'OSTY' HELP TO RED SOX

Peacock's Temper Costly

Because of their successful drives to the semifinals of the national amateur championship at Oakmont, Willie Turnesa, who explained the Holy Cross team last spring and Dick Chapman, who was beaten in the finals of the 1936 New England amateur championship, have qualified for the next Walker Cup team. Golf may not be a business with either Willie or Dick but up to the present neither has allowed business to interfere with his golf . . . Johnny Peacock's display of temper yesterday in Cleveland, where it is alleged he took a swing at one of Bill Harridge's arbiters, will doubtless cost him a wage of the coin of the realm. And, possibly, suspension . . . By this time, Uncle Charlie Moran has probably a query from Pres. Ford Frick of the National League as to why he didn't render a decision on Gabby Hartnett's foul ball home run . . . After the Pirates had dropped no less than five home runs in the stands yesterday, the Giants must agree that the Polo Grounds is a band box, far more suitable for football than the national pastime . . . Roy Cullinane, whose hitting burned up the Florida Grapefruit League last spring but flopped when the season opened and was sent back to Toledo, has been recalled by the Detroit Tigers and his triple yesterday figured in the defeat of the Yankees . . . With Dick Bartell out of the line up with a broken finger, the Giants can't miss going into a fall spin. George Myatt will move over to short and Bill Casell will be assigned to cover the hot corner. The Bartell accident is a break for the Bees . . . The purchase of six Maroons by Les Canadiens for an unannounced sum is a laugh, in view of the fact that the Montreal Forum owns both clubs . . . During the spring training at Sarasota, Fritz Ostermuller declared that had he not been certain that his arm was perfect after his operation, he'd not have reported . . . He is having his best season in the major leagues and but for him the Red Sox would not have any thoughts of finishing in the No. 3 slot . . . Casey Stengel had his first varsity in action against the Pirates in today's double header at National League Field. Tony Cuccinello, who has been out of the line up since last Friday due to the death of his father, returned this morning.

Texans Favored Over 'Headers

MARBLEHEAD, Sept. 16—Twenty gridmen from Post Arthur high school, Texas, worked out here today in preparation for their inter-sectional game with Marblehead Saturday.

Despite the long cross-country trip the Texas schoolboys showed no signs of weariness and got right down to work. They are a heavy and speedy squad and figure to take the "Headers" for the second time in as many contests.

Last year at Texas the Post Arthur gridmen took the Bay State boys by a three-touchdown margin. Most of the members of '37 Yellow Jack eleven are back this fall.

Tech Leads In Yachting

KINGSTON, Ont., Sept. 16 (AP)

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology took the lead in the first international intercollegiate yachting races on a point basis by finishing second to Williams and Brown in the first two races in the Kingston harbor waters.

Williams, with J. Lewis as skipper and E. A. Newell as crew, won the first race with M. I. T. second. Navy third, and Brown fourth, in the fleet of seven dinghies. The Royal Military College and Queen's University were disqualified in this event.

The second race saw Brown cross the finish line first, with A. S. Francis acting as skipper and F. B. Davis, crew.

M. I. T., with H. Hansen, skipper, and C. Read, crew, again finished second while the Royal Military College boat was third and Princeton fourth. Queen's came in fifth. Navy sixth. Williams was disqualified.

The point standings left the entrants in the following order: M. I. T., Brown, Williams, Navy, R. M. C., Princeton and Queen's.

Lewis Wins Over Jimmy Adamick

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16 (AP)—Light heavyweight champion Jimmy Lewis, of Phoenix, Ariz., won a 10-round decision over Jimmy Adamick, of Midland, Mich., in a non-title bout at Convention Hall.

Adamick, who weighed 188 pounds to 184 for Lewis, had the champion on the verge of a knockout in the last two rounds, but Lewis' early lead earned him the vote of the two judges. Referee Matt Adgie voted the fight a draw.

Brown Worries Over Center

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 16 (AP)

Hearstern by the flashy showing of the "A" team's offense in Thursday's scrimmage in the mud and rain, Brown returned to the double field drill routine today with more scrimmages on the schedule.

During Hall, Capt. Larry Atwell, Victor Bernstein and Sherwin Kaptein set the scoring pace for the varsity topped up a five-touchdown margin over the "B" team.

Injuries, many of a minor nature, have cut into the work now, and several of the men are resting from the contact work. Amos Taylor, the big New Bedford center, was worked at tackle to take the place of the injured Donald McNeil.

Dick Goodby and John Oechello, newcomers in the tackle squad, showed up well in their new assignments.

Rocks to Use Tony as Carrier

George Kennaally, coach of the Shamrocks, looks to the game with Whizzer White's Pittsburgh Pirates Monday night in an optimistic manner.

"We lost the ball game on one bad break," said the South Bostonite today in discussing the forthcoming game with the National Leaguers at Fenway Park. "However, Tony DiNatale's showing was a redeeming feature of the ball game."

"If he can play the brand of ball with us that he played last Wednesday night, he's just the kind of a back that I've been looking for since I lost Hank Soar. I don't know as I am going to use him as a quarterback after all. He's too valuable as a ball carrier to load him down with quarterback duties. Tony looks like he is just beginning to feel his football oats and that's what I want."

Eyston Ready For Record Run

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Sept. 16 (AP) Nervous and ashen-faced, George Eyston "gaased" today for another venture in his 250-mile-an-hour speed duel with John Cobb.

Timers for the lean Briton's attempt to retrieve the world land speed record, lost to Cobb only yesterday, too were at high tension, much more jittery than during previous runs.

Captain Eyston, up long before dawn, fussed about the sleekly shining Thunderbolt car with which he set a world mark of 345.9 m.p.h. for the measured mile, only three weeks ago.

Yesterday Cobb, another Brit-leader, pushed the record up another notch with his light Railton car to 350.29 m.p.h.

Brouillard Set for Big Comeback

One of the greatest fighting men ever turned out in New England, Larruping Lou Brouillard, Worcester, launches a comeback campaign which he hopes will land him back with the world's leading middleweights when he battles Joe Glaszow, Quincy, in the 16-round feature of the Goodwin A.C. boxing show at the Garden one week from tonight.

Former world welterweight and middleweight champion, Brouillard is down close to the 160-pound mark and this time is going to stick strictly to the middleweight ranks. Recently Lou moved in with the light heavies and while he plastered two local hopes—Roy Kelley and Dick Maloney—he found he was giving away too much in the Tiger Jack Fox fight. Brouillard's comeback in the middleweight division is, from all indications, being inspired by the successful return of Young Corbett out on the West Coast.

Lou says: "The middleweight division hasn't got much. Young Corbett, who is an old man if they call me a veteran, beat Fred Apostoli and Fred Steele has retired. Marcel Thil, a pop-over for me, is out of the picture. And they won't recognize Al Hostak as champion in New York. When Hostak does fight in New York they'll be looking for someone and there's very little around."

"I can beat most of these up-and-coming young middleweights with one hand."

Wilson Honors Turf Best

EXCLUSIVE— HITLER'S PRICE OF PEACE:

By KINGSBURY SMITH, International News Service Staff Correspondent

(Copyright, 1938)

LONDON, Sept. 16—Chancellor Hitler informed Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain during their momentous Berchtesgaden conference that Germany insists upon return to the Fatherland of the purely German districts of Czechoslovakia's Sudeteland.

This was revealed on good authority to International News Service today as Chamberlain returned to London to lay the German demands before the British and French governments.

Hitler, it was learned, declared that the German districts of the Sudeten region must be returned to the Reich not later than October 1.

Otherwise, he told Chamberlain, Germany will be compelled to take all measures within her power to regain them.

Hitler also informed the British prime minister that Germany insists upon municipal autonomy within the framework of the Czechoslovakian state for Germans in those areas in which they form a large proportion of the population.

The Fuehrer, it was revealed, indicated that the peace of Europe could be saved by granting these demands.

He also said that Germany is prepared to enter into a pact guaranteeing the neutrality of the purely Czech regions of Czechoslovakia, and to discuss general European appeasement.

There were reports that Chamberlain's speedy visit to Hitler will lead to a momentous peace conference among Europe's four major powers—Britain, France, Germany and Italy.

Such a conference, which may be held in Berlin, might bring Chamberlain, Hitler, French Premier Edouard Daladier and Premier Mussolini together at the same council table in a concerted attempt to bring about genuine appeasement of European problems.

Daladier is expected in London tomorrow. Chamberlain is likely to confer with Hitler again next week—probably on Tuesday at Godesberg.

Hitler's demands led to a growing belief that Czechoslovakia would be called upon to make a supreme sacrifice in the interests of European peace. Whether the Prague government would be willing to make this sacrifice—partial abandonment of its sovereignty—was a question that excited keenest speculation.

There were increasing indications that Britain and France were unwilling to plunge into war to maintain the present status of Czechoslovakia, which would be bound to remain a festering sore.

As a result diplomatic circles here confessed they would not be surprised if a new plan were offered to the Czechs, envisaging full territorial autonomy, if not outright return to their native lands of the purely German, Hungarian and Polish districts of Czechoslovakia.

In return for this virtual dismemberment of the Czech republic, under such a plan, the European powers would guarantee not only political but economic security of the purely Czech regions.

Meanwhile, in addition to discussing the Czech question, it was revealed that Chamberlain asked Hitler to state Germany's grievances and demands for a general European settlement, including the matter of colonies, Danzig, trade matters and the central European situation.

Hitler also was asked to ascertain from Mussolini the conditions under which Italy would enter into a new "concert of Europe." This would include the question of the Spanish civil war and would be designed to enable Britain, France, Germany and Italy to inaugurate a new alignment.

Deadline: Oct. 1—Price of peace, as quoted by Hitler, calls for return to Reich of shaded districts shown on map. Black sections are almost wholly German; shaded, with German majority.
